The workspace revolution

Manage your organization's resources efficiently also in teleworking scenarios

Teleworking is here to stay. It attracts and retains talent through a work life balance, it leads to great savings on property costs and it is the only possible solution in public health crises such as that of COVID-19.

Integrating teleworking with space management

Booker helps organizations to correctly implement teleworking by integrating it with workspace management (rooms, desks and parking spaces) based on efficiency and sustainability criteria, thus democratizing the use of these resources and ensuring their highest performance

Remotely

- Editable profile with a customizable status (from home, with a client, on a trip, etc.)
- Access to virtual meetings
- Booking of locations manageable from anywhere
- Check-in of working hours

When accessing a desk in an office

- Automatic allocation of desk when entering the building
- Viewing of desks on a map and immediate booking
- Management and viewing of bookings for teams and collaborators
- Fast check-in through augmented reality with a smartphone or through web app

When accessing a parking space

- Manageable space allocation and lending for a democratized use
- Management and organization of spaces according to stablished groups
- Easy use of electric vehicles

A user profile adapted to various work statuses

Having a public profile in the app allows users' statuses to be managed and shared based on the organization's needs and setup.
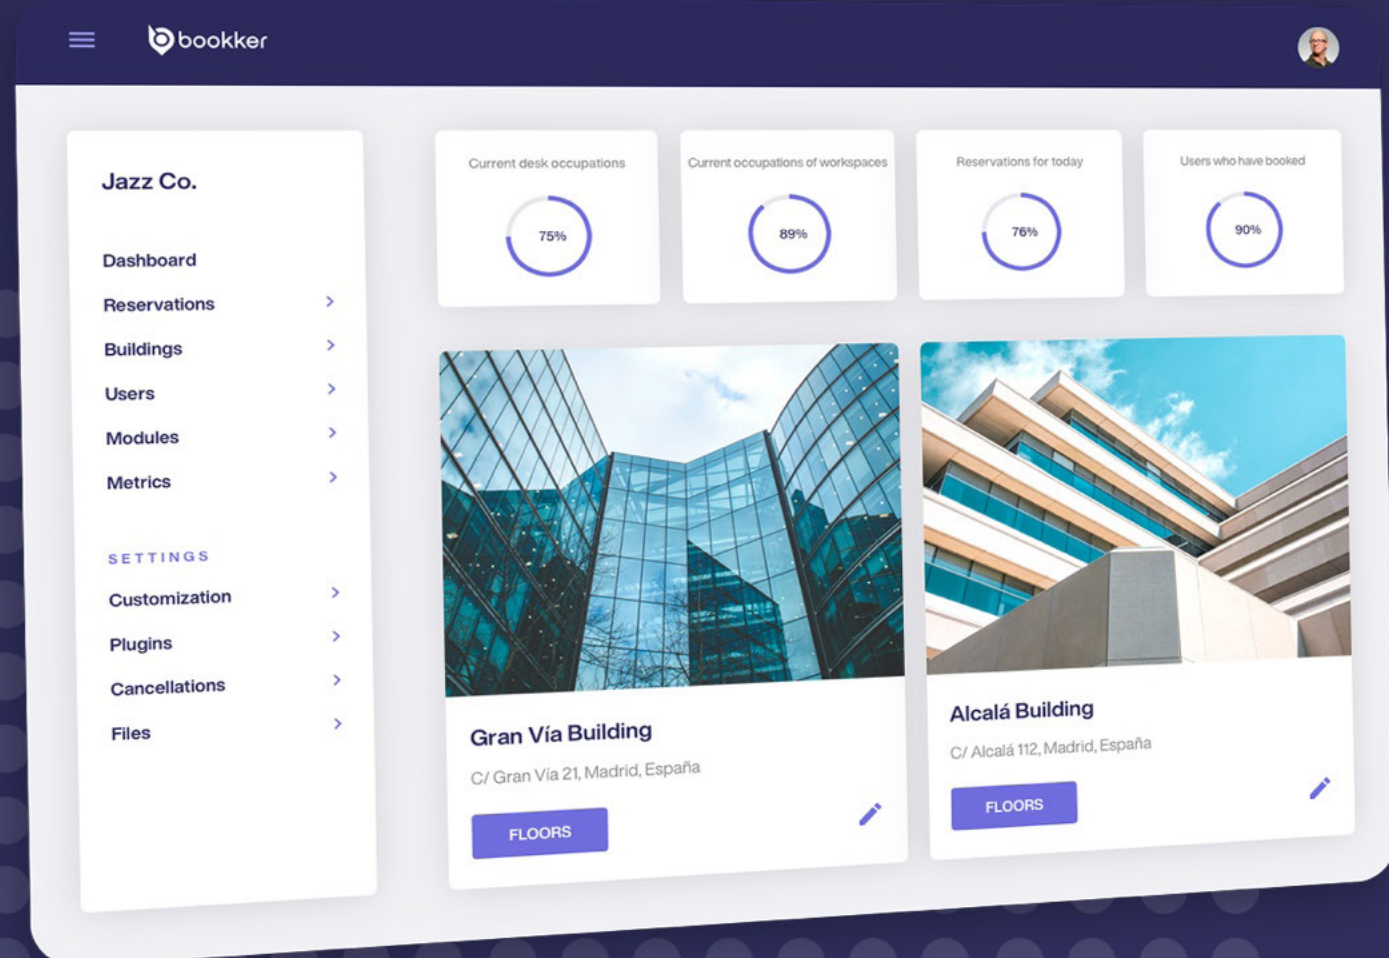

- Automatic allocation of status based on temporary criteria (teleworking, hot-desking, on vacation, etc.)
- Manual setup of statuses (with a client, on a trip, sick, etc.)
- Calendar viewing of automatic statuses allocated by the organization
- Access to groups assigned by the organization and information about resources available for the user
- Access to Bookker's incentive program points

Your profile

John Doe
Product Designer

Working from home

⭐ 2,368 points

Your groups

Hotdesking Group A   See resources

Parking Group C   See resources

Your predefined statuses

Working with client
Every Mo and Th, until 07/11/2020

REDEEM POINTS

All your resources at hand

Booker's management dashboard allows the organization to set up its resources and user profiles in a fast and easy manner:

- Creation and modification of terms of use for resources and users
- Setup and management of user profiles with calendars for teleworking, hot-desking and vacation
- Design and application of parking space allocation logics
- Real-time access to space booking and use metrics

Download full dossier

Receive more information about how Booker can help you implement teleworking correctly and optimize your organization's resources

DOWNLOAD DOSSIER

Bookker is much more

Learn about what Bookker can offer to manage and optimize your workspaces

VISIT BOOKKER WEBSITE